

BIOGRAPHY : JAGMOHAN SINGH

Jagmohan Singh joined Lockheed Martin New Delhi Office in January 2006 and is the Regional Director for India, Sri Lanka and Maldives. He has been the key interface between the Indian customers for majority of the programs of Lockheed Martin.

Before joining Lockheed Martin, Jagmohan served in Indian Defense Forces for 23 years. He commanded equipment intensive Air Defense units as well as led the troops in counter insurgency operations. He has a unique set of experience due to his extensive involvement with all three branches of the Indian military. He has wide practical exposure to defense equipment and weapons including ships, submarines, aircrafts, helicopters and land based platforms. While at Integrated HQs of MoD, he was part of the teams to formulate defense procurement policies, equipment profiles, qualitative requirements and employment concepts etc.

Jagmohan is the recipient of Sword of Honour and Gold Medal for being overall best cadet and standing first in order of merit in Officers Training Academy, Chennai. He holds the degree of Master in Science (MSc) in Defense Studies and Master in Business Administration (MBA).